The Easter Egg Hunt

On Easter morning, Mia and her brother Leo woke up very early. They were excited because their family was going to have an Easter egg hunt in the backyard.

Their mom had hidden colorful eggs behind trees, under flowers, and near the garden fence. Some eggs were blue, some were yellow, and some were pink. Each egg had a small candy inside.

"Ready, set, go!" their dad shouted.

Mia ran to the big tree and quickly found three eggs. Leo looked under a bush and found two green eggs. Soon, their baskets started to fill up.

At the end of the hunt, Mia had eight eggs and Leo had seven. They laughed and shared their candy together.

It was a fun and happy Easter morning.
