

Name :

Date :

HOW PEOPLE CELEBRATE

Cinco de Mayo is celebrated in Mexico and the United States.

People enjoy parades, music, and traditional food.

Many people listen to mariachi music and watch dancers in colorful clothes.

Some foods eaten on this day include tacos, enchiladas, and guacamole.

In schools, students learn about Mexican culture and history.

It is a fun and educational celebration.

Questions:

Where is Cinco de Mayo celebrated?

What kind of music do people listen to?

Name one food people eat.

What do students learn about?

Is Cinco de Mayo fun or boring?
