THE JOURNEY OF MIGRATING ANIMALS

Instructions: Read the passage and answer the questions.

Many animals migrate during certain times of the year.

Migration is when animals move from one place to another to find better living conditions.

Birds often fly south for the winter because the weather becomes too cold and food is harder to find.

In warmer places, they can easily find insects, seeds, and water.

Some animals travel very long distances during migration.

For example, certain birds can fly thousands of miles across continents.

Whales also migrate through oceans to find food or to have their babies in safer areas.

Migration is important because it helps animals survive, find food, and stay safe during different seasons.
