The New Girl

There was a new family in the neighborhood. They had a little girl about Angel's age, and Angel really wanted to meet her. The first time Angel saw the new girl in school, she smiled and said hello. When she saw her on the bus home from school, Angel asked if they could sit together, and she told the new girl all about their neighborhood. One afternoon a few days later, when Angel was outside playing with some of her friends, the new girl came outside. She stood and watched for a while, looking a little shy. Angel smiled, and waved, and called to her, and invited her to come play, which made her smile and happy to do!
