NATIVE AMERICAN TRIBES COMPREHENSION WORKSHEET

Long ago, many Native American tribes lived across North America. Different tribes lived in different places and had their own languages, homes, and traditions.

The Cherokee people lived in the Eastern Woodlands. They built strong homes called longhouses and grew crops such as corn, beans, and squash.

The Navajo people lived in the Southwest. They were skilled at weaving beautiful blankets and raising sheep. Many Navajo families lived in homes called hogans.

The Lakota people lived on the Great Plains. They followed buffalo herds and lived in teepees, which were easy to move from place to place.

Although these tribes lived in different regions, they all worked together with their families and communities. They respected nature and used the resources around them carefully.
