THE AUTUMN READING CHALLENGE

Every October, Maple Grove Middle School hosts an Autumn Reading Challenge. Students are encouraged to read as many books as they can during the month. The goal is not only to finish books but also to discover new authors and genres.

Each student receives a reading log to record the title, author, number of pages, and favorite quote from every book they read. Teachers also organize weekly activities, including book talks, reading games, and small group discussions.

Many students enjoy reading mystery and adventure novels, while others choose biographies, fantasy stories, or science books. At the end of the month, everyone who completes at least five books earns a certificate. Students who go beyond the goal receive special recognition during the school's fall celebration.

The reading challenge helps students build vocabulary, improve reading comprehension, and develop a lifelong love of books. Most importantly, it reminds everyone that reading can be both educational and enjoyable.
