The Lost Backpack

Leo was ready for school, but his bright yellow backpack was missing.

He looked under his bed, but he only found his dusty red socks.

Next, he checked the living room couch, but he only found his dog, Buster, taking a cozy nap.

Leo started to worry because the school bus would arrive in just ten minutes!

He really did not want to be late for school.

Finally, he walked into the kitchen. His sister, Mia, was packing her lunch.

Sitting right on the floor beside the refrigerator was his yellow backpack!

Leo smiled with relief, grabbed his bag, and ran out the front door just as the yellow bus pulled up.
