The Missing Jingle Bell

Barnaby the elf was working hard in Santa's workshop. His job was to polish the silver bells for Rudolph's harness. Suddenly, one shiny bell slipped out of his small hands and rolled under a pile of colorful wrapping paper!

Barnaby dropped to his knees and searched everywhere. Behind the wooden train sets, under the plush teddy bears, and inside a stack of cozy knitted hats. Just when he was about to give up, Barnaby heard a tiny jingle-jingle near the door.

Pip, the workshop kitten, was batting the missing jingle bell across the floor! Barnaby giggled, picked up the bell, and gave Pip a warm bowl of milk for finding it.
